PSC NAMES UTILITY OPERATIONS DIVISION DIRECTOR

JEFFERSON CITY--The Missouri Public Service Commission has appointed Warren Wood as director of the PSC Utility Operations Division.

The Utility Operations Division is comprised of four departments: telecommunications; energy; water and sewer; and manufactured housing. It supports the Commission in meeting its statutory responsibilities by providing technical expertise in energy safety; utility rates, tariffs, and rules and regulations; economic analysis; engineering oversight and investigations; and construction inspections.

Warren Wood is currently the manager of the PSC Energy Department. Prior to coming to work at the PSC, Wood was a consulting engineer on electric generating plant and miscellaneous infrastructure projects.

Wood, a Columbia, Missouri resident, earned his bachelor of science degree in civil engineering from the University of Missouri-Columbia.
